Welcome To Grayling

The Grayling welcome sign design was drawn by Terry Dickinson of Bay City. It will be 17 feet high and 15 feet wide and the three panels will also give coming events information & tell of civic club meetings. The Grayling Rotary Club will finance the $5,000 project.

Rotary Buys $5000 Grayling Welcome Sign

The Grayling Rotary Club will finance the construction of two attractive signs at the south and west entrances to the city, welcoming visitors and informing them of coming events.

The tasteful displays were designed by Terry Dickinson of Bay City who has painted many murals in Grayling and was the director of the remodeling of Weaver's Gift Shop.

The Grayling signs will be 17 feet high and 15 feet wide with three artistically balanced display panels. The top panel will welcome travelers to the city. In the middle and slightly to the right of the display will be a theater marquee section which will handle interchangeable numbers and letters. That section will announce coming events in the county.

The third and bottom panel will be narrow but span the entire width of the sign. It will provide space for all of the civic organizations in the area to show their emblem and announce meeting times.

According to the Rotary Club President Randy Thompson, the two displays will cost about $5,000. Thompson and past Rotary president Jerry Morford are the chairpersons for the sign committee and originated the idea.

The Grayling City Council has agreed to accept the signs once they are placed on location and be responsible for the upkeep and changing of the coming events.

"King of the Trappers," George Leas Turns 99

By Jon Thompson

In 1906, while Teddy Roosevelt was carrying a big stick in the White House, George Leas was carving two big birch sticks into homemade skis at his new homestead in Alberta Province, Canada.

The Ohio native, who now lives along Goose Creek Rd. west of the Manistee River, has never regretted his decision to try homesteading Canada. Leas stayed there trapping and hunting for more than 50 years.

"My heart and soul are still in Canada," says Leas who celebrated his 99th birthday April 6 with relatives.

Leas became well-known in Alberta for his trapping skills and at age 58 was named Wolf King of the province for catching the most timber wolves (27) in one year. After Leas left to return to the states, the local government restored the cabin he had built and turned the place into a park commemorating the pioneer Leas.

"I did everything living in the bush everyone else did," says Leas. He wintered snowfall three feet deep and temperatures down to 65 below. He tended a 200-square-foot garden that would be hit with frost three to four times each growing season. For meat, he shot mostly deer and moose and smoked Grayling fish.

Although he never went out hunting them, Leas says he shot more bears than he could ever count because they were always wrecking his trapline cabins or messing around his home.

"After a while you get used to them," Leas said about the huge beasts. "My wife said I wasn't afraid of the devil," he joked.

Leas went back to Ohio briefly after his first year of homesteading in 1906 to marry his girlfriend, and they both returned to the homestead. George and Susan Lea Leas had three children — George, who also lives on Goose Creek Rd., Martha, and Ellen.

Before government rules restricted trapline areas, Leas walked a trapline 30-40 miles long. Later rules restricted him to a 12-mile trapline. Leas, who began trapping when he was seven, may have been the first trapper in Alberta to begin using a pack horse to ride his trapline.

His daughter finally talked him into returning to the states when he reached the age of 72 but he wouldn't stay away from the bush and was "tickled to death" when a friend asked him back to trap & hunt. A 1965 photo from Alberta shows Leas at age 80 with a bear he had just shot.

Still in relatively good health, Leas says he still thinks about going out and setting a few traps. He credits his longevity to good clean living. He was raised on an Ohio farm and in Canada he grew vegetables in a garden, ate wild foods, and drank spring water.

"I've never smoked, never had liquor, and only tasted beer once," he said.

For all the stories Leas has about Canada, he often has photographs or records to back him.

"I was never one to stretch the truth," he says. And other sportsman know that as well. For years Leas has published stories and photographs in magazines, most frequently the Western

Military Helicopters Return for Training

As the robin is the harbinger of spring in most of Michigan, the cacophony of sound permeating the air reminds Grayling that spring and helicopters have returned.

Wintered near major metropolitan areas in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana, the journey to the hinterland at Camp Grayling is a welcome change for all the itinerant pilots. The excellent terrain at Camp Grayling gives the pilots the variety that is necessary to have the difficult skills required for Nap-of-the-Earth (NOE) flight. All pilots hope the requirement will not come to have to perform these evasion flight techniques against an enemy force, but also realizing the uncertainty of world conditions proficiency is tantamount to success.

The NOE training challenges the abilities of the pilot to master simultaneously such skills as: map reading at 90 miles per hour, aircraft control in various wind conditions, and obstacle avoidance. With the

Special Meeting Called To Discuss Sr. Center

By Jon Thompson

A special meeting of the Grayling Housing Commission will be held Wednesday, April 18, 7 p.m. at the senior citizen center to discuss operations of the center. The meeting is open to the public.

The center was closed last Tuesday evening and Wednesday after Lora Gould, executive director of the Grayling Housing Commission, retired from the position at the regular housing commission meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The meal program at the center was shut down Wednesday but started again by Thursday. Dorothy Latuszek, president of the Grayling Housing Commission, said Monday, April 16, that most of the center's programs are functioning. The meal service continues, a maintenance man and secretary are working, and R.S.V.P., which leases a separate building, is operating.

Services disrupted are those using the center's meeting room and some county Commission on Aging programs. Latuszek said the Grayling Housing Commission is currently working out a lease agreement with the Commission on Aging, which has Lora Gould as a board member. Gould is retaining her position on that board.

The department of Housing and Urban Development, which subsidizes AuSagra Acres, didn't approve of Gould serving as both director of the Grayling Housing Commission and a board member of the Commission on Aging. HUD is starting an audit at the center and has completed an inventory there. Latuszek said both the audit and inventory are routine procedures after a change in management.

Latuszek said the Grayling Housing Commission will begin advertising for a new director. The five-member commission, made of Latuszek, Perry Wells, Bob Golinick, Mike Hauxwell, and Larry Akers, will choose the next director.

Lora Gould offered no comment about her retirement as executive director of the Grayling Housing Commission.

5-Year Maintenance Plan Calls for 11 New Buses, Replacing Elementary Roof

By Jon Thompson

A five-year school district plan calls for more than $1 million to be spent on building maintenance, school buses, and upgrading food service and playgrounds.

The long-range plan, presented to the school board April 10th by assistant superintendent Paul Lerg, targets $187,825 to be spent next school year. About $90,000 of that total for next year will buy three new school buses. Another $60,000 of that total is part payment on a new high school roof already installed. The money for the first year of the maintenance program is already included in budget projections for the next school year.

Superintendent Kent Reynolds said it is imperative the district embark upon a systematic planned maintenance program to protect their building and equipment investments.

Included in the five-year plan is $400,000 to install a new roof on the Grayling Elementary and enclose two courtrooms changing them into classrooms. The roof will probably be similar to a heavily-insulated high school roof which helped save 41 percent on fuel bills this winter.

Also included in the five-year plan is $330,000 to buy 11 new buses. The school district hasn't bought a bus since 1979.

Additionally, the plan calls for a rotation system to replace desk, carpets, lockers, and other school equipment. Reynolds said although many people still regard the high school as a new building, the desks and carpets there have had 11 years of heavy use and a rotation replacement plan needs to be started.

The plans also outlines restroom maintenance and repair money and $11,400 over five years to upgrade kitchen equipment at the schools.

Playgrounds are also scheduled for improvements. Besides adding equipment at both elementary schools, the Grayling Elementary will have large grates installed outside to trap dirt before it enters the building. The plan calls for a sprinkling system and seeding at Grayling Elementary to grow grass on the playground.

In another long-range plan to look at staff needs, an additional six teachers will be

From Our Corner...

Apathy continues to plague the Little League program in Grayling...it seems like every spring the officials of the Little League have to go begging for help to keep the program going for the young people here...umpires and coaches are in great demand again this year, even after a couple weeks of announcing the fact in the Avalanche and other media there is still need for both positions...besides the three other Little Leagues, this year there is an attempt to form a Big League for players 16 through 18 years of age which will be a traveling team...

The local board of directors have been asked to host a State Finals in 1986 which would bring in five teams for a double elimination tournament that would last for at least five days and possibly a week...

Separate committees would be formed by the regular Little League board of directors to oversee the tourney...the group would be responsible for furnishing 25 motel rooms for 5 days besides maintenance of the field and furnishing umpires which they would be assisted by the district officials in obtaining...

It is the concern of the local officials because of the apathy shown in operating the local leagues for help, that at present they hesitate in accepting the invitation to host the tournament...

We feel that a Little League State Final tournament would help Grayling by bringing in spectators from the competing teams which again would help the economy that in this day and age every town is striving for different things to bring people to their town...

If you can help in any way, give Larry Akers, President of Grayling Little League or Mick McNamara, Vice-Pres. of the League a call and offer your support...the continuation of Little League here depends on the help the Board of Directors can get for survival...

A stranger was in our midst a couple days last week...Monday morning when we were on our way back to the Post Office we met Burt and Thelma McWilliams...we had a short chat with Burt and if one can believe him he told us they were on their way to New York and that they had just come from California...he said they had sold their place in Texas and was moving to Arkansas except in the winter when they planned on spending some time in the Yuma, Arizona area...I'm sure many of our readers remember our friendly Barber and the tales he passed on to his customers on Michigan Avenue...of his many capers we remember most the great Opossum hunt to be held on February 29th, which was a brain child of his and the Leprechaun, it created quite a bit of conversation even though it wasn't a leap year, and at the time no one knew if there was even one opossum in Crawford County, let alone have a hunt for them...it did help the winter slip by a little faster...it was good seeing him again, it took quite a while for main street to get to a normal pace when he retired...

Most everyone has heard the saying, "You SMO You", well LTC David "Skip" Hanson has become SMO of the Michigan National Guard...when we heard about his transfer we had to ask our bride who has worked for Skip for some 18 years what SMO meant, come to find out he has been promoted to State Maintenance Officer for the Guard...we attended a party held in his honor Friday night at Patti's Country House that was attended by 161 co-workers and friends...Skip reported for his new position at the Armory in Lansing Monday morning...we wish him well...

Speaking about the Opossum, a week or so ago, Allen Carr came in the office and told us he had trapped one down near the river but it got away...maybe next year we could have another hunt on the 29th...

This takes care of this week's efforts, so will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber good night, and to all of our readers have a nice Easter weekend, if things work out ok we may spend the time in T.C.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

HOME FROM CANADA!

It has never felt so good to be back home in Grayling, Michigan! Speaking 17 times in the course of one week was an unusual load for this small town, country preacher. We did learn a new love and appreciation for our Canadian neighbors who gave my wife and I a royal welcome.

Talking to several Baptist pastors, it was reassuring to know they hold the same conservative views over there that we hold in Grayling. It was very interesting to listen to the Canadian news and get a different slant on the position of the good old U.S.A. In a country which has more socialism and is more liberal than our country, it was amazing to hear them blame our more conservative government for their high unemployment rate and sluggish economy. It sounded like the liberals in this country. Can you imagine blaming the success of conservatism in the U.S. for the growing problems of socialism in Canada. One man could not understand how our two countries could be so much alike, and yet they must pay some 25% to exchange their dollars for our U.S. dollars.

While recording both radio and television material, I was made aware of the hostility of liberalism to conservative clergy. The pastor informed me that it is now standard procedure for him to pre-record all such material so the stations can edit it and remove any statements offensive to government.

It was also interesting to note that the liberal clergy there support the liberal politicians and try to discredit conservative pastors just like they do here in the United States. This reminded me again that the first two people cast into the eternal flames of Hell will be a false preacher and a liberal politician. Revelation 19:19, 20. Preachers who turn Bible truth into error, and politicians who ensnare free men, do more to destroy good government, the local church, and the family than all other forms of corruption. Liberal preachers in Canada just don't believe the Bible. Liberal preachers in this country have the same problem. All of us need to believe and practice the Bible. Bible truth is the hope of America! (Adv.)

Grayling Elementary School News

On Tuesday, April 3, Mrs. Bovee's fifth grade class and some other classes went to the Artrain. The students saw many interesting things like paintings and sculptures and even more interesting they saw people demonstrating. They saw someone painting, doing pottery, and they saw a woman sculpturing a human head with clay. On their way in they saw a film about the Artrain and what they will see. On their way out they each received a booklet about the Artrain and it had art games in it. The students enjoyed their trip and saw many interesting things. By Bridgett Barrow, 5th grade.

The classes, taught by Gayle Mills and Nancy Lemmen, rode by bus to Kirtland Community College. Several students participated in his workshop, but others just watched. John is a professional actor and mime artist. After his workshop Dr. Robert Amsden gave the students a tour of the stage and they continued on to the library. They went home at 4:00 p.m. on a bus. John Ammerman appeared in his original mime show "Silent Snapshots" on March 8, 1984 at 8:00 p.m. Written by: Teresa Ferguson, 6th grade student.

New Series Fitness 7 To Begin

The MSU Cooperative Extension Service and Mercy Hospital have announced a multiple topic health maintenance series called Fitness 7. The series will be held on five consecutive Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning May 2. This will be held at the Crawford County Courthouse.

Chronic diseases - such as heart disease, diabetes, cancer and emphysema - are the nations primary killers and are often related to the style by which a person lives. With a prudent lifestyle the incidence and severity of chronic diseases can be reduced.

Bruce King, health education at Mercy Hospital, views the series as unique. "The concern people have today about their health is reflected in the amount of health related news and information available. Sometimes, however, the messages we hear are confusing, and the information we get comes to us in isolation of other important and related health information."

What is needed is a program that ties together many of the common health and lifestyle concerns that we all have. The Fitness 7 series provides just such a look. A number of health professionals will speak on a variety of topics, including nutrition, weight, stress, exercise, sleep, environment, alcohol, and tobacco.

The series has two main goals: The first is to provide area residents accurate information to assist them in making sound decisions about health. Second, methods and/or referral agencies will be suggested that can help a person to make a change in health lifestyle.

Further information is available by contacting Mr. Steven B. Perry, Director, National Small Business Training Network, Office of the President, Kirtland Community College, Rt. 4 Box 59A, Roscommon, MI 48653, or by calling 517/275-5121, ext. 220.

Wrights Wronged

Not content to spy on the Wright brothers a full year before their famous flight at Kitty Hawk, the British government considered an offer seven years later by a top Rolls Royce executive to give the government whatever secrets he could learn of the plane's operation.

Opposing what today would be called "industrial theft" was a young politician named Winston Churchill, who suggested that the government go directly to the Wright brothers themselves.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP As Weather Warms, Think of Ventilation

We hear so much talk about insulation, caulking doors and windows, and so on. Isn't it possible for a home to be too airtight? And, isn't ventilation as important as insulation during the heat of summer?

Proper insulation and ventilation are both important. There could be problems if a home is too airtight. We create moisture within the home by cooking, washing and bathing. That is why quality attic wall insulation is fitted with a vapor barrier, or facing, that prevents moisture from collecting on the insulation to decrease its effectiveness. Proper ventilation is important in the kitchen. Moisture collected on walls and ceilings can lead to "musty" odors and deterioration of paint or plaster. Attic ventilation is also important. Two vent openings are recommended, with air flowing in one and out the other.

Why do painters wash a brand new roller cover before using it? Washing with warm water and soap is recommended to remove lint from the roller cover. Dust also may have collected on the cover. Link or dust will affect the quality of the paint application. Do-it-yourselfers should remember that the roller cover must be perfectly dry before being used in the application of oil-based paints. Is there a substitute if you are removing several layers of wallpaper and don't have access to a commercial solution to soften the paper?

Hot water will soften the paper and it works best if it is applied in a fine spray. A small garden sprayer will do the job.

African Adventure To End Travelogue Series

The eleventh annual Travel and Adventure Series sponsored by the Grayling Community School Program will come to a close on Thursday evening, April 26 with an exciting film of Kenya. The film will be shown in Grayling's Joseph Stripe Auditorium and will begin at 7:30 p.m. Doors will open at 6:45 and tickets will be available at the door.

This is the last travelogue of the season, this is a first for Grayling travelogue audiences, for this is the first time in eleven years that we have been able to have an African film as part of our series. "Kenya - The African Dream" will be narrated alive and in person by nationally recognized lecturer-photographer Dennis Burkhardt. This will also be the first time that Mr. Burkhardt has appeared in Grayling.

All members of the Grayling and surrounding communities are encouraged to attend this next exciting travelogue. As a film, it is sure to be interesting as well as educational. The Community School Program is also interested in a good audience to make sure that the travelogue series ends the year in the black.

This is also the last opportunity that season ticket holders will have to use up the remaining punches on their Passports To Adventure. If you have more admissions left on your tickets than you will need, this would be a good time to invite one of your friends or neighbors to attend the travelogue with you.

Major Changes Ahead For Higher Education

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

A recent interim report from Governor James Blanchard's Commission on the Future of Higher Education reported that major changes in the state's higher education system — including developing formulas for accessing the possibility of closing a college, consolidating programs and developing new funding formulas — must be studied further to assure the system's high quality in the future.

In releasing the report, Commission Chair, James K. Robinson, said Michigan has a "great system (of higher education), but a system in jeopardy."

A series of public hearings on the interim report is scheduled for late April and May and the final report and recommendations are due in October.

Robinson said he hoped the interim report would serve as a "basis for widespread public input into the work of the commission."

During a press conference outlining the report, Robinson said it was possible, "even with downsizing" of college programs, that not all of Michigan's colleges may survive by the 21st century.

He added the commission was not targeting any colleges for possible closure but the group may "attempt to develop the criteria for deciding when to close or consolidate" a college.

It is not inevitable that a college will be closed, he said, but colleges have to recognize trends that are developing.

For example, the report indicates that by 1990, enrollments overall could decline by 10 percent. In addition, the type of student enrolled in colleges will change from the traditional young adult to greater concentrations of older adults, often seeking additional training for job skills.

Colleges should expect greater numbers of minorities and women as well, the report said.

Robinson also said a new method of providing state funding to colleges must be found. Enrollments cannot be the sole basis for funding, he said.

Research functions and other factors have to be included in developing new funding mechanisms.

Robinson said the commission was committed to finding ways of holding down increasing tuition costs, but the interim report made no recommendations towards that end.

However, the report did show that all of Michigan's higher education institutions (public four-year schools, private four-year schools and community colleges) charge higher tuition than the national average.

Michigan's public four-year colleges charge an average 42 percent more for tuition than the national average, private colleges charge 5 percent more and community colleges charge 20 percent more.

The report also calls for creation of a comprehensive, statewide data base on higher education which would better help state policy makers and college officials in planning.

But, despite the report's emphasis on studying possible consolidation of programs, better overall planning and even possible closure of schools, Robinson said the commission rejected the concept of a superboard that would have primary planning authority for state colleges.

He said such a board was neither "politically feasible nor administratively prudent. There are advantages to Michigan's very autonomous system. It has the advantage of diversity and it has served the state well.

The report further encourages development of the State Board of Education's recommendations for improvement of K-12 education regarding coordination and communication between educational sectors, adjusting high school graduation requirements, strengthening the teaching process and implementing policies regarding precollegiate preparation of minorities, women and handicapped students.

Wrestling Banquet Salutes Season

Approximately 65 people attended the 1984 Grayling wrestling banquet on Sunday, April 8 at the high school. It was a potluck this year, and was enjoyed by everyone.

Special awards given out to some of the wrestlers were Captains Award to Tom Sorenson, Most Valuable to Ron Wyman, Most Improved to Barsie Cross, and 110% effort to Tim Moore.

The only senior this year, Tom Sorenson, gave a very fitting and touching tribute to Coach Ferguson.

Recognition was also given to Jeremy Wilson and Terry Sorenson for all their help to coach this year. They will be two to watch in a few years on the wrestling team. All in all a great ending to a fine wrestling season.

Ostling to Seek Seventh Term in House of Rep.

Lansing—State Representative Ralph Ostling, Roscommon Republican and vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, announced today that he will seek a seventh term in the Michigan House of Representatives, representing the newly reapportioned 103rd House District.

The new 103rd District includes portions of Roscommon, Antrim, Otsego, and Emmet Counties and all of Crawford, Kalkaska, and Charlevoix Counties.

"For the past twelve years I have had the privilege of representing the people of the 103rd District," Ostling stated. "And I look forward to the opportunity of serving them again for another two years. It is not an easy job, and it continues to be a challenge for me. I have dedicated most of my life to public service and I hope the people of northern Lower Michigan agree with me that I have done and will continue to do my best."

Ostling, who served as Gerrish Township Clerk for 17 years before running for the State Legislature in 1972, is a graduate of Roscommon High School and received his B.S. and M.A. degrees in education from Central Michigan University. Ostling taught secondary education for the Roscommon School District before entering the State Legislature.

He also served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and is a member of the V.F.W., Rotary and Lions Clubs. He and his wife Thela live in Roscommon. The Ostlings have one son, Kurt and a granddaughter.

The Avalanche — Your Want Ad Paper

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Whitey,
In response to the letter of June E. Robinson, in the April 5th issue of the Avalanche, I would like to say that although it appears that no one really cares about those helpless babies it is just not so.

The Knights of Columbus, of which I am a member, believes that all life is a gift from God and no one has the right to take it away. All human life, which begins at the moment of conception and stops only at the moment of natural death, has a place in this world. Each life, no matter whether it is handicapped or not, has a purpose in this world.

Even if we as humans do not always comprehend what it is. To take that life is a great waste of resource we really need. Abortion survives only because society does not want to be held responsible for their actions.

Another reason being that those performing the abortions are making billions of dollars at it, and they do not want to lose their life of luxury. Abortion is only a quick fix, or an easy way out, not a long term solution to the problem. Abortion is not the answer. The use of knowledge is.

If you or any other person would like to help us, we will always welcome it, but in the event you feel you do not want to help any certain religious organization, I would like to recommend you help Right to Life of Michigan, they are not affiliated with any one religion, their members are marching and protesting and trying very hard to be heard.

At the present time, they are trying to over-ride Governor Blanchard's veto of state funded abortions. They feel our tax monies should not be spent for abortions. It should be used to cure the ills of our state, and in finding a better use for the wasted resources of the people that occupy this state.

Right to Life has knowledgeable people to help any person to learn alternatives to abortion. What they need is people to make contact. At present, Crawford County does not have an active chapter. If we could get enough people interested, we could organize one, then anyone that needed our help in learning the alternatives of abortion could find us and get help, we could also educate others to the horror that is going on, mainly the experimentation of some of those innocent human beings before their tragic death.

"Annie" is GHS Player's Biggest Show

Stage manager Scott VanDeVen calls it "monstrous," Scene designer Pat Moore calls it "awesome," Technical director Monique Petrosky calls it "mind-boggling," and Costumer Shawn Walters said it's "overwhelming." Whatever word one wants to use to describe it, there is no question that the musical "Annie" is the biggest Broadway show ever attempted by the Grayling High School Players. Up to this time, the musical "Fiddler on the Roof" was considered the biggest show. Others come to mind — "The Music Man," and "No, No Nanette" were also big, but this one dwarfs them all. It will cost somewhere in the vicinity of $7,000 to produce "Annie" which in terms of GHS Theatre is a new high.

Director Howard Taylor said, "Annie" is really a simple comic book story, but the telling of it in musical comedy format can be immensely difficult and involved, depending upon what kind of effect you are trying to achieve. The musical production upon what kind of effect you are trying to achieve. The musical production is our season's showpiece. It is the one performance that everyone wants to see, so we try to make it as good and as handsome in every way that we possibly can.

"Annie" will be presented in Grayling High School's Josepe Stripe Auditorium in four performances on May 10, 11 and 12. Tickets for all performances are presently on sale. There will be an evening performance each of the three days beginning at 8:00 p.m. There will be a special matinee performance on Saturday, May 12 at 2:00 p.m. The matinee is especially designed to attract grandparents and grandchildren, with children through grade six and senior citizens being offered a special price of $1.50. Others attending the matinee will be expected to pay the full fare of $3.50.

The three evening performances of "Annie" offer a choice of seating, with the center section of the auditorium being reserved seating while both sides are on a first-come, first-seated general admission basis. Tickets for all three sections are presently on sale at the Community School Office. Ticket orders should be mailed to "Annie", Community School Office, Grayling High School, Grayling, Michigan 49738. Checks should be made payable to Grayling High School and ticket orders should indicate whether you desire the general admission side sections or the reserved seating in the center. The price for all seats for the evening performances is $3.50. Tickets for the general admission side sections are also available at the Board of Education Offices at 403 Michigan Avenue in Grayling.

Bike Riders Needed for St. Jude's Bike-a-Thon

The "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-Thon for the St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital is still recruiting riders to participate in the Bike-a-Thon on Saturday, May 5.

The event is sponsored this year by the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church 5th & 6th grade Sunday School class. The ride will begin at the church.

Sponsor forms are available at the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church office or the Middle School, High School, Grayling Elementary or Frederic Elementary School offices.

A special feature this year at the Bike-a-Thon will be the mystery rider. Who will it be?

For more information call Chairperson Lorna Morse, 348-7037.

"Candida" at Roscommon High

The Meadow Brook Theatre's touring production of G.B. Shaw's romantic comedy "Candida" is made possible through the support of the State of Michigan and the Roscommon Chamber Music Society/Arts Council.

The performance will be May 4th at 8 p.m. in the Roscommon High School Auditorium. Tickets are available at the Roscommon Hardware and at Flower's by Josie in Grayling.

Donkey Basketball April 26th

Plenty of hilarious action and a good crowd are expected to keep Grayling High School gym buzzing when a Donkey Basketball Tournament is staged for April 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Three games among four local teams will provide the entertainment for the night, and advance ticket sales indicate a large crowd will be on hand for the wild tournament.

"Tickets have been selling very well," said Michelle Barber, ticket chairman. "In fact — everything looks great — better than for most of the other events the class has sponsored lately."

Advance tickets are still on sale at Grayling Pharmacy. Advance tickets are $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for students. Tickets at the door will be $3.00 for adults and $2.50 for students, children under 6 free. All proceeds will go to the Class of '85.

So, the teams are chosen, the battle lines drawn and the donkeys are ready to go. All that is needed is a full house at the Grayling High School gym, and the way tickets are selling, the fans had better come early to get a choice seat. The doors will open at 6:45 p.m. to let the fans pour in and watch what the donkey-backers claim to be "wilder than a rodeo!" and "funnier than a circus!"

Dear Sir:
In the article that I wrote for the Avalanche it was stated that Alzheimer's disease is now known to be an inherited illness. Actually, this is quite controversial, and true only in a certain number of cases. This represented a typographical error that escaped my notice when I read the press release. I apologize very sincerely for any unnecessary anxiety that I caused anyone, based upon the very significant change in meaning of that sentence due to this error.

Sincerely yours,

HAS A NEW CAR CAUGHT YOUR EYE?

Introducing the Variable Rate Loan from Gaylord State Bank

It's a brand new way to finance your next car. A way to take advantage of lower, initial interest rates. Lower, fixed monthly payments. And, between now and May 15th, we're offering a Variable Rate of 11.50% annual percentage rate. It's been a long long time since you've been able to buy the car of your choice at a rate that low. Best of all, if current market rates go down, our 11.50% rate will be reduced even more. And, even if interest rates go up, your payment will not increase during the life of your loan.

Our 11.50% variable rate applies to new 1984 model cars from now until we close on Tuesday, May 15th. And it is available through any Gaylord or Grayling dealer or any Gaylord State Bank Office. So, don't delay. Make your deal before May 15th and drive away with the lowest new car loan in town.

Country star Ronnie McDowell will replace Carl Perkins for the final concert of the year at Kirtland Community College on April 28th at 8 p.m. Tickets for Ronnie McDowell will be on sale shortly at the usual outlets for $6. Any Carl Perkins tickets already purchased will be honored for the McDowell concert. Anyone wishing a refund for a Carl Perkins ticket must contact Bob Amsden at 517/275-5121, ext. 226. Perkins was taken ill during a tour and cancelled all of his concert dates in April and May to allow for recovery without subjecting him to surgery.

Ronnie McDowell is a popular modern country singer who has consistently had top 10 hits over the past six years like "You're Gonna Ruin My Bad Reputation," "You Made a Wanted Man of Me," "Older Women Make Better Lovers," "I Dream of Women Like You" (his current hit), and "The King is Gone" which was a tribute to Elvis Presley and McDowell's first hit. His current album's title track, "Country Boy's Heart," takes the tune from the hit rock song "Rock and Roll Heart" by Eric Clapton and substitutes country lyrics.

Ticket outlets are: Flowers by Josie in Grayling, Roscommon Hardware, Higgins Lake True Value Hardware and Dressmakers in Mio. Ticket price at the door will be $7. For further information, call 517-275-5121, ext. 226.

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter

A friend of mine makes maps; not the kind you would use for everyday needs but more often maps typical of those used during the 1700's and early 1800's. He puts them on tanned animal hides which, when completed, are works of art suitable for framing.

Early maps are fascinating to look at. For example, a map prepared from the journals of Charlevoix in 1744 shows a high elevated plain running the length of lower Michigan which is shown as being much narrower than it actually is. This map also depicts a number of large islands in Lake Superior where we know only two exist (Isle Royale and Michipicoten). Interestingly, the fictitious islands continued to appear on maps until the 1850's.

Earlier maps of Michigan showed a mountain range running down the center of the Lower Peninsula which left Michigan headed south to curve east where they made a neat union with the Appalachians about where West Virginia is now. Most of the early maps showed Lake Superior with surprising accuracy, probably because the Iroquois Indians made passage of the lower Great Lakes a hazardous undertaking.

Much distance measuring was done by a rather ingenious method. The men who paddled the great canoes during the early fur trading were given about ten minutes every hour to fill and light their clay pipes which would last for close to an hour. In an hour, a crew of paddlers could push a canoe five miles. By keeping track of the number of pipes smoked in a day, distance was gauged. This information, coupled with visual information gained from following the coastline allowed the early map makers to draw quite good maps of the Southern and Northern shores of Lake Superior and of Lake Michigan.

Meadow Brook Theater Coming To Roscommon

The other two sides are her husband and an eighteen-year-old poet. Which lover will Candida choose? "Fresh Start" Program at Mercy Hospital

As anyone who has smoked for any length of time will tell you, quitting is next to impossible.

After much research and experimentation the American Cancer Society has developed a program called "Fresh Start." Mercy Hospital will be offering this program on April 17, 19, 24, and 26, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Mercy Hospital in the doctors' dining room.

FRESH START gives smokers the information and strategy for stopping. The program does not require non-essential activities or work. The series is confined to meaningful activities proven effective in quitting cigarettes and staying off them, according to Mr. King.

Mr. King said the program has helped many people to stop smoking.

If you are interested in signing up for this four part workshop, Mr. King encourages you to contact the hospital at (517) 348-5461, ext. 172, or the Public Relations Department at extension 115.

Good Seasoning
Sage is a versatile seasoning. It blends well with pork and poultry, can be sprinkled on cottage cheese or added to vegetable soup.

Thirty eight year old Mike Coulter from Petoskey has announced that he will seek the Republican nomination for State Representative of the 103rd District.

Coulter, calling for a return to common sense in state government, said that he believes he can carry a more accurate view of the wishes of the people to Lansing.

Noting that Ralph Ostling, the current representative of the 103rd, has been in Lansing for 12 years now, Coulter states that he has been active and involved with the people for the past 12 years. "People are sick and tired of the same old thing from our state bureaucracy. I believe we need new blood and new ideas in Lansing. We also need our traditional values applied to how this state is run, there comes a time when right is right and wrong is wrong. My pledge is to really represent the people; my goal is to cut some of the fat out of state government."

Reynolds said next year all the 31 elementary classrooms will be filled and by 1988-89, six more classrooms will be required. A proposal for a new middle school includes classrooms for fifth graders to relieve overcrowding at the elementary schools.

Temporary Shelter Care Program

RAINBOW Runaway Services, a Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Inc., (NEMCSA) program, is a voluntary program that provides short-term counseling, temporary shelter care, information and referral, aftercare and supportive services. These services are provided to youth up to 17 years of age who have run away from home or are contemplating such action. Since RAINBOW provides temporary shelter care as one of its services, there is a need for qualified foster parents in the community.

RAINBOW's shelter care services provide for a maximum 14 days placement of a child. This short-term placement provides the child a stable environment to work out their immediate problems until they can reunite with their families. If you are interested in helping the youth of your community by becoming a foster parent, contact our Foster Care Specialist at (517) 356-3474 or toll free at 800-292-3003.

Middle School News

Science Class

The 7th and 8th grade science classes had a visitor Mrs. Anne Stephenson who showed slides on 4-H Exploration Days at Michigan State. Booklets were passed out to those interested in going this summer to the exploration program.

Literature Class

Mrs. Judi Mesack's literature classes are studying forms of literature, including drama, poetry, short stories and mythology. Seventh grade classes read "The Mazarin Stone" by Arthur Conan Doyle, and eighth grade classes read "The Diary of Anne Frank." Students read dramas out loud to try to understand dramatic performances. Both seventh and eighth grade classes visited the Art.

Journalism Class

Mrs. Judi Mesack's journalism classes published and sold their first edition of In The Middle and worked hard to get their second edition to the publisher before Easter vacation. They are experimenting to see if they perform a two or three column page. The journalists are entering a journalism competition sponsored by their publisher, A.G. Halldin Company.

Geography

The 7th grade geography students are working on a twenty page report on a State of their choice. The 8th grade students are working on a transportation project. Both are due April 13th for Mr. St. Germain's classes.

Speech

Mr. Tim Branch's speech classes are having debates and panel discussions. Some of the topics selected by the students were: prison reform, restriction on handguns, building a new middle school, discipline in public schools, ban on nuclear weapons.

English

Mr. Tim Branch's English classes have been working on paragraph and composition development. Selecting a topic sentence, supporting sentences and outlining and descriptive writing are some of the studies they have undertaken.

Home Economics

A new homemaking block is starting. Students in 7th and 8th grades are making aprons, tote bags or simple patterns in wearing apparel such as sweatpants, jackets and bathing suits cover ups. Some will be creating fabric Easter Baskets and eggs as well as Easter toys. Mrs. Dora Lantzsch and Mrs. Lynn Thompson are the instructors for home economics.

Advanced Studies

Several advanced studies students are developing an energy efficient model home they have visited a Houghton Lake architect, David Reib-sieger. All advanced studies students attended a Mime workshop at Kirtland Community College.

Art Classes

Mrs. Lynn Thompson's art classes are working on print-making, copper tooling and paper mache. Also, they have worked on mosaics, portraits and comic figures.

Military

threat of heat seeking missiles and radar detection, NOE training insures the pilots that his mission can be conducted in a hostile environment against a sophisticated enemy. Being involved in a training environment where mistakes can be corrected is part of this aviation training at Grayling. Accidentally deviating from the prescribed courses on the military reservation can be corrected; crossing an adjacent area or terrain feature may have drastic effects in a war zone. The majority of these pilots (approximately 85%) are Vietnam veterans whose experience in combat is considered necessary to provide the Army with the rapid mobilization of aviation resources which may be required in any future conflict. Being experienced and professional in their flying duties, these pilots strive for the perfection of their flying skills.

To insure that the goals of the aviation units are met without creating problems with other units in training or the civil populace, an extensive briefing is conducted by the Camp Grayling aviation staff. All restrictions to flight and other local limitations required while flying at Camp Grayling are discussed. Although every effort is made to prevent problems, pilots sometimes become disoriented and stray off the NOE training areas. When this situation occurs, immediate corrective action is taken. But occasionally, flying at 90 miles per hour, a considerable distance will be traversed prior to the realization that an error has occurred.

In our continuing effort to enhance the public relations with the community, Camp Grayling offers a program that describes the various aspects of aviation training. Knowing that education and information are the keys to success, we hope that interested organizations will make use of this service by writing: Public Relations Section, ATTN: CGAVN, Camp Grayling, Grayling, MI 49738.

Glen's Grand Opening Features New Bakery, Deli

A Grand Opening for the newly expanded Glen's Market and Family Center in Grayling will be held Thursday, April 19, capping seven months of construction and improvements at the store.

Highlighting the Grand Opening will be the unveiling of Glen's New Bakery and Deli Shop. Fresh baked goods and Delicatessen delights will be available seven days a week, 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday to Saturday and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Adjacent to the bakery and deli is another new feature of Glen's — a Coffee Shop with eight tables for shoppers to sit at and enjoy a cup of brew or baked goodies and deli treats.

Also added at Glen's is Clark's Pharmacy offering prescription service and a full-line of pharmaceutical goods.

One of the most interesting new features at Glen's is a electronic check-out system with "talking" scanners. The new system is faster and more accurate — qualities both shoppers and employees appreciate.

Every section in Glen's has been expanded with dramatic changes in the produce section. Increased space offers an appealing variety of fruits and vegetables to suit any northern Michigan shopper. The meat section and natural foods section have both also been greatly expanded.

For extra customer convenience public restrooms have been added and a covered grocery pick-up area will soon be in operation. A Courtesy Counter has also been installed to handle items such as cashing in returnable bottles and cans.

As part of the expansion project, Glen's has hired 21 new employees, according to Grayling manager Fred Armstrong. Glen's Market and Family Center in Grayling now employs about 70 persons, Armstrong said.

"We would like to thank all of our loyal and faithful customers for being so understanding during the last seven months," Armstrong said. "We hope our improvements have will help us better serve our customers."

50% MORE SPACE—Glen's $500,000 improvement project doubled store floor space.

TELL A FRIEND ABOUT GLEN'S

Save-Share Tops $1 Million

The Save-Share concept did not originate with Glen's Markets and Family Centers, but Glen's has been closely identified with the program sharing the store's revenue with the community.

C. Glen Catt, president of Glen's stores, started the program in June 1972. Catt observed a similar program being operated by an independent grocer elsewhere in the state.

The Save-Share program was established to provide community organizations and groups a means from which they could regularly earn money for projects that would help improve the communities in which they live.

The program typifies Glen's approach to community involvement on the part of its stores and staff. Employees are encouraged to be active in service clubs, schools, churches and other organizations.

Since its inception, Save-Share has paid out more than $1 million to participating organizations. In the Gaylord area, schools are the leading beneficiaries, followed by scouting groups, churches and service organizations.

Any registered group can save Glen's green register tapes, add them up and turn them in to their local Glen's

Market to have shared with them 1 percent of the qualified total. The qualified total is the total minus any beer, wine, or cigarette purchases, and sales tax.

Further details for your group or organization, contact a store manager or assistant manager at your local Glen's Market and Family Center.

Milestones — Glen's Market and Family Center is the flagship for an independent chain of 12 Glen's stores in northern Michigan.

The network of markets began the same decade that the original Glen's was opened in Gaylord — the 1950s.

Over three decades, Glen's has planted new stores in Kalkaska, Charlevoix and Rogers City, and bought out existing stores in its other community locations.

The following chronology of milestones shows the chain's expansion, as well as related business growth:

1951 — Opened original store in Gaylord.

1954 — Moved into newly constructed store at West Main and Indiana streets, Gaylord.

1956 — Opened new store in Kalkaska.

1957 — Addition completed to Gaylord store.

1959 — Purchased store in Grayling.

1961 — Built the Vacationland Lanes and the Laundry and Cleaning Village in Gaylord.

1963 — Purchased store in East Jordan.

1965 — Enlarged the Grayling and East Jordan stores.

1967 — Built new Gaylord store at Alpine Plaza.

1968 — Built new store in East Jordan.

1970 — Built a new laundry and drycleaning building at Alpine Plaza.

1971 — Sold Vacationland Lanes.

1972 — Built new stores in West Branch, Mio and Grayling; completed 11,000 square foot addition to Gaylord store.

1975 — Built new store in Kalkaska after fire destroyed old building; purchased stores in Mancelona and Roscommon.

1976 — Built new store in Mancelona.

1977 — Enlarged Roscommon store; purchased store in Rose City.

Talking Registers Reduce Errors

—Ordinarily, computers go about their business without telling you what they're doing. Not anymore.

At the expanded Glen's Market and Family Center, "talking" cash registers will tell the customer the price being registered on each item at the checkout.

Here's how the new system, called POSItalker, from Data Checker, works:

The machine "reads" the name of the product as the clerk passes the item over the scanner.

Through a speaker, the machine verbally announces the recorded price to the customer.

The shopper thus can hear prices as soon as they're registered and make any corrections if needed.

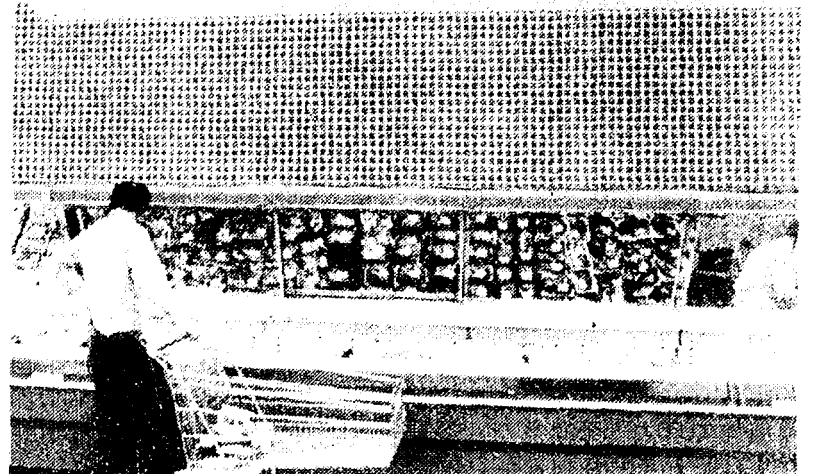

A "print-out," in the form of a cash register tape, shows specific product name along with price for easier reference in customer checking of grocery prices.

From the store's standpoint, the electronic scanning reduces the number of checkout errors - a 1 percent loss nationally for supermarkets.

The new system at Glen's, made by the California-based National Semiconductor Corp., is tied to all checkouts.

BIRD CALLS DEMONSTRATED — Mr. Ron Waite demonstrated how to use his bird calls in Mr. Hayes' class. Mrs. Bovee's fifth grade class was there too. He used a variety of calls such as the slate and cornob, box, cow, owl, and his favorite, the diaphragm. He used and explained the purpose of every call. He told us why camouflage is important. He also said if you want to go hunting you must have a hunting license. He also has a decoy turkey named Ethel. The people who are pictured, from left to right, are Jeanne Hayes, Stephanie Boersma, who is holding Ethel, the decoy, Mr. Waite, Billy Morrow, and Andrea Austin. Chamber Chatter

By the Staff

While Joyce is on vacation in the South, the staff of Walt & Laurie will attempt to fill her column this week.

Walt has been on the job for a week now and is getting his "feet-wet" in many activities that require attention and assistance. At the Board of Directors Meeting it was decided to enter into an arrangement for the printing and distributing of new brochures. A new plan is being used, unlike the most recent effort that was curtailed for lack of activity. The Chamber has on hand between 15,000 and 20,000 fold-out informational brochures that were printed for another program. We can utilize this inventory by adding an additional 16 or more pages of advertising local businesses and enterprises. Walt or someone will be soliciting advertising contracts for the completion of the brochure very soon. We have been assured that 10 to 12 thousand of these brochures will be distributed at the Highway Information Centers in Michigan and others will go to travel shows in the Midwest United States. There is also a substantial amount mailed from the office to people who inquire about the Grayling area.

The Board of Directors also authorized the Executive Director to pursue the formation of an organization to develop tourism activity along the I-75 and U.S. 27 Highway Corridor. The initial plan will include counties of Roscommon, Crawford and Otsego. The plan is to compliment the efforts of a 9 county alliance along Lake Huron which is also seeking government and professional assistance for its development. The Central County Region, as it will be called, has met on several occasions with representatives of each community and all are eager to proceed. It is felt that funding and technical assistance will be available and efforts are being made to complete these aids.

The purpose & responsibility, generally, of the 3 County Central Expressway Corridor is to: A. Develop an interim marketing plan. B. Serve as liaison with State-level organizations, state legislators and local units of government. C. Sponsor educational field programs. D. Erect promotional displays at Department of Transportation highway facilities. Hopefully, we'll get this one off the ground real soon.

News releases have been sent to major newspapers from Gaylord to Cincinnati, Ohio, advertising the Mushroom Hunt that will take place on the weekends of May 5-6 and May 12-13. The headquarters is the San-Sheri Campground, 6 miles north of Grayling near Frederic. Brian and Cindy Peacock, campground owners, assure us of area guides, plenty of prizes and a good time for everyone. The area guides will help pickers locate the general area of the tasty morel. Warm spring rains will help bring the mushrooms up.

We extend an invitation to everyone to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce. The benefits are too numerous to list, but the chamber representative can give you the facts and the services offered. In most cases, the price of a cup of coffee per day is all it costs to belong. Call the chamber for details.

What is Easter, Mommy?

"Is it the time when bunnies get born?" I looked at my little daughter, appalled.

Did she really think of Easter in terms of sugared eggs, fluffy bunnies and pretty candies? Had I given her the impression that for grownups Easter is a time for new clothes, flowered hats and fragrant corsages? Surely, at some time, I must have told her the real story of Easter. Or had I?

I was really flabbergasted at my negligence — it took my little daughter to make me realize it. I dismissed my house chores and sat down right then to tell her what hope this event brought for all of mankind — with its promise of eternal life.

I might add that the next week I enrolled my daughter in church school. And my husband and I started attending church again. We haven't missed a Sunday since.

The Crawford AuSable School District Report

By Paul Lerg
Assistant Superintendent

School maintenance and operations have a dramatic hidden financial impact on the district. While some aspects are readily visible, many are not. Maintenance and operations can be divided into five general categories. Each of these five categories can then be again divided into a series of related components.

The first category is administration of maintenance and operations programs. This includes policy development, staff development, budgeting and purchasing, forecasting, building utilization, and public relations.

The second category is concerned with the operations of the school district. It includes cleanliness standards, inspection procedures, the grounds program, wage administration, special checks, emergency communications, staffing projections, and contracted services.

The third category covers maintenance procedures including the types of work performed, scheduling of maintenance, work order forms, preventative maintenance, and maintenance staffing.

The fourth category includes health, safety, and energy conservation aspects. Warehousing, storage, and security are also components of this category.

The final category covers personnel management. Included in this area would be orientation of new employees, supervision, job descriptions, evaluation procedures, staff meetings, inservice training, personnel filing procedures, and custodial substitutes.

The district regularly prioritizes needs for maintenance and operations. This systematic approach brings increased efficiency to the district, i.e. substantial energy savings gained from the replacement of the high school roof. With limited resources, educational priorities can be better met with savings from efficient maintenance operations. However, meeting both high educational priorities and high maintenance priorities is a continuous problem.

Mushroom Mania Set For May

The annual mushroom season is fast approaching, as a result of mild spring weather. The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce is arranging a festival to be held on May 5 & 6 and May 12 & 13, hoping that warm spring rains will encourage the tasty mushrooms to pop out of the ground.

Headquarters for the event is the San-Sheri Campground and Party Store, located 6 miles north of Grayling on Old U.S. 27. Facilities for RV and Tent Camping are available along with a Restaurant and Party Store.

Prizes will be awarded for several categories of mushrooms. Area guides will assist mushroom hunters to find suitable locations. For further information, please contact the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 406, Grayling, Michigan 49738 or phone 517-348-2921.
